DISCUSSIONS OF NEW TECHNIQUES FOR FIRE-FIGHTING INTERNATIONAL FIREMEN'S STAR TOURNAMENT, GYULA 2009

Place: The City of Gyula

Lectures: Erkel Ferenc Művelődési Központ – Center for Education

Demonstrations: Grounds

Reception for the participants: Erkel Ferenc Művelődési Központ – Center for Education

Topics of technical discussion:

Topic 1: Integrated extinguishing of vegetation-fires.

The mutual cooperation of the Fire-departments and Directors of the National Parks developed an integrated protocol for fighting vegetation-fires.

The essential feature of the protocol is to focus is on the prevention of such fires by establishing a system that combines the available technical and information technologies for firefighting methods. The combined protocols will be more effective than the currently used procedures. The new system will be beneficial to protect the environment and personal properties as well.

Elements of this approach include a centrally installed unit linked to several space-monitoring cameras, activator of mobile combat units and their supporting units, statistical and dynamic decision supporting system. The decision supporting system's dynamic component is a "Mosquito" type reconnaissance-robot. This flying instrument secures the possibility to monitor the integrated special information and support the decision making process.

This is justified because the variable hillside terrains hinder the quick and accurate assessment, and delays or obstructs the discovery of fire.

Topic 2: Special firefighting procedures, with special emphasis on the use of explosions for fire-extinguishing.

Please, send your comments and questions concerning these subjects by e-mail or in letters so that they can be answered or included in the Technical Discussion sessions.

Attendance-fee:

There is no extra entrance fee for these discussions but registration with the Organizing Committee and payment for the accommodations are required prior to participation in these discussions.
